

For Immediate Release
November 1, 2006

The Children of Fallen Soldiers Relief Fund announces Aviation Performance Solutions LLC (APS) 2006 Fighter Combat Tournaments of Champions charity event scheduled for the weekend of Saturday, 18 November 2006.

The Fighter Combat International division of APS is launching two flying events to make a sizeable financial contribution to US military surviving families affected by the Iraq and Afghanistan wars. $100 from each Top Gun entry fee and $50 from each Air Show Pilot entry fee will go directly to the Children of Fallen Soldiers Relief Fund. There are more than 30,000 members of Fighter Combat International that were asked to chose or name a charity that would benefit from this event. An overwhelming amount of members chose the Children of Fallen Soldiers Relief Fund whose mission is to provide financial support to surviving children and spouses affected by the loss of a loved one during his or her service overseas as well as immediate family members that have a severely disabled parent or spouse.

Aircraft Launches are between 0800 - 1700 and are scheduled every 75 minutes.

The two events taking place on this charity weekend are the Top Gun Championship and the Air Show Pilot Championship. Participants can choose to compete in one or both of the events as long as they meet the participant qualification requirements. The promotional team with the blockbuster movie, Flyboys (2006), visited Fighter Combat International on 18 September 2006. The event included ground-based interviews with several Phoenix radio and TV stations as well as both the Fighter Combat team and the Flyboy aircraft flying with Fox News. The aerial stunts were spectacular!
